

Join us as we explore health equity with a series of interactive webinars from the Institute of Public Health Innovation. Register for one or all three trainings in the series.

Equity Messaging and Motivation - webinar series

This interactive webinar series explores metaphors and mindsets that shape thinking about equity in the U.S. Participants will identify key values, words, and phrases to convey equity messages, practice developing and refining messages to target audiences, and gain support for strategies designed to promote equity. The sessions include a variety of instructional methods including group discussion, break-out sessions, and hands-on learning activities and exercises.

Schedule

Webinar 1: Tuesday, May 3, 2022, 10 a.m.–noon Eastern

Webinar 2: Friday, May 13, 10 a.m.–noon Eastern

Registration closing date: 5/2/22 at noon Eastern

Health Equity: Everyone's in on It! - webinar

This interactive webinar focuses on the continuum of community participation as a strategy for engaging leaders to improve health outcomes. Participants will assess who is represented in collaborative efforts to ensure equitable participation and inclusion. We will also discuss expressions of power and the types and distribution of power and leverage that understanding of power dynamics to create more equitable and inclusive partnerships. The sessions include a variety of instructional methods including group discussion, break-out sessions, and hands-on learning activities and exercises.

Date and Time

Monday, May 23, 2022

10 a.m.–noon Eastern

Registration closing date: 5/20/22 at 5 p.m. Eastern

Implicit Bias for Public Health and Health Care Workers - webinar series

This interactive webinar series explores the concept of implicit bias. Participants will learn how the brain's normal functions lead to implicit bias and will discuss how implicit biases lead to health inequities. Participants will discover how our social identities help define what implicit biases we have and will practice strategies to address our own implicit biases. The sessions include a variety of instructional methods including group discussion, break-out sessions, and hands-on learning activities and exercises.

Schedule

Webinar 1: Thursday, June 2, 1–3 p.m. Eastern

Webinar 2: Monday, June 6, 1–3 p.m. Eastern

Registration closing date: 6/1/22 at noon Eastern

Location:

Online. Information to access the courses will be sent upon registration.

Target Audience:

These webinars are appropriate for all levels of clinical and public health professionals as well as non-traditional audiences including government, non-profit, and grassroots organizations.

Technology Requirements:

These interactive webinars are presented through the Zoom Internet-based platform. A computer with high-speed internet connection and the ability to download and run this platform is required.

How to Register:

1. Log on to marphtc.pitt.edu and sign in with your username and password.
2. Navigate to the Training/Upcoming page and select the course for which you want to register.
3. Click the "Enroll" button under Course Registration at the bottom of the page.
4. After you are successfully enrolled, you will receive an email confirmation that contains important information about this course.

If you do not have an account:

1. Visit marphtc.pitt.edu.
2. After you create an account, you will receive an email asking to confirm your account. Click "confirm" in that email message.
3. Navigate to the Training/Upcoming page and select elect the course for which you want to register.
4. Click the "Enroll" button under Course Registration at the bottom of the page.
5. After you are successfully enrolled, you will receive an email confirmation that contains important information about this course.

For more information about these courses or assistance with registration, contact marphtc@pitt.edu.

Mid-Atlantic Regional Public Health Training Center