Where can you find information on Title III OAAAPS/New SPR?

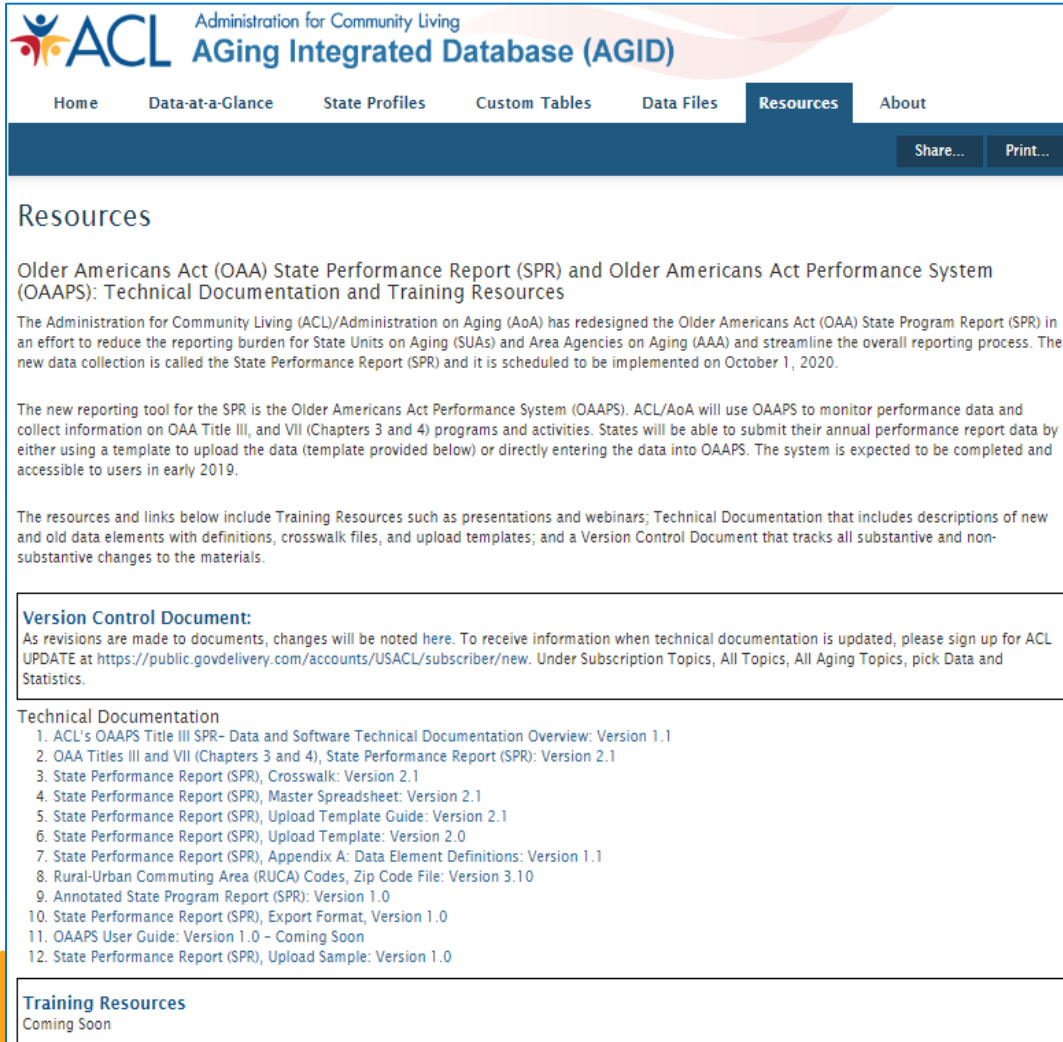

- ACL's data website, AGID (AGing Integrated Database): https://agid.acl.gov/Resources/OAA_SPR.aspx.
- This website contains the technical documents and resources and we plan to update and post new materials.

AGID

- The new webpage on AGID includes new and up-to-date documentation for the new SPR and Title III OAAPS documents.

Older Americans Act (OAA) State Performance Report (SPR) and Older Americans Act Performance System (OAAPS): Technical Documentation and Training Resources

The Administration for Community Living (ACL)/Administration on Aging (AoA) has redesigned the Older Americans Act (OAA) State Program Report (SPR) in an effort to reduce the reporting burden for State Units on Aging (SUAs) and Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) and streamline the overall reporting process. The new data collection is called the State Performance Report (SPR) and it is scheduled to be implemented on October 1, 2020.

The new reporting tool for the SPR is the Older Americans Act Performance System (OAAPS). ACL/AoA will use OAAPS to monitor performance data and collect information on OAA Title III, and VII (Chapters 3 and 4) programs and activities. States will be able to submit their annual performance report data by either using a template to upload the data (template provided below) or directly entering the data into OAAPS. The system is expected to be completed and accessible to users in early 2019.

The resources and links below include Training Resources such as presentations and webinars; Technical Documentation that includes descriptions of new and old data elements with definitions, crosswalk files, and upload templates; and a Version Control Document that tracks all substantive and non-substantive changes to the materials.

Version Control Document:
As revisions are made to documents, changes will be noted here.
